

Privacy Policy Statement

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully. By using this website, you consent to the use of your personal information as described in this Privacy Policy. You and JML agree to comply with JML Privacy Policy as in force from time to time.

About us

JML takes the privacy of all users of its websites very seriously. This Privacy Policy outlines how your personal information will be treated. Our privacy policy will be reviewed and enhanced from time to time and you should check this page to see our most up-to-date policy. If you would like any further information or have any comments about our Privacy Policy or any other aspect of our website or service, please contact us at dragos@cretoiu.ro.

JML website, and the access and use by all visitors, are governed by the JML Terms and Conditions, which you must read and accept as a condition to using JML websites.

Data Controller

The data controller for personal data collected via JML website can be contacted at dragos@cretoiu.ro. The data controller is the person or organization which controls the purposes for which your personal data is used, and the means used to process and protect that information.

What information do we collect?

In order to provide you with our services, we may collect and keep a record of personal information about you from JML website. This information may include general information such as your IP address, date/time of the access, details of files or pages consulted, page from which the access took place, top level of the domain name (.com, .ch, etc), internet navigator and operating system used.

We may retain the details of transactions or payments you make on JML.

We may also use cookies (please see below).

How will we use your information?

The data collected from use of JML website by any user is kept for statistical purposes.

We will usually store your personal information for the period in which you use any JML website and for a reasonable period after you cease to use it. Please inform us when you cease definitively to use all jml website. We reserve the right to keep information for a longer period if necessary, for example to investigate breaches of our terms of use.

Cookies

In common with many other website operators, we may use standard technology called 'cookies' on this site. Cookies are small pieces of information that are stored by your browser on your computer's hard drive. Our cookies enable us to identify you and to store information about the services you use on your visits. Most browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually change your browser to prevent cookies being stored. However, if you do turn cookies off this will limit the service that we are able to provide to you. Please ensure that your browser's cookie settings are as you wish.

Transfer and use of your information to and in other countries and to third parties

The server on which JML website are hosted may be outside the country from which you access this website and may be outside your country of residence. Due to the manner in which information is transferred on the Internet, it is likely that information exchanged between you and Frontiers will be routed via other servers in different countries.

Your information may be transferred across country borders, potentially to countries where data protection laws provide a lower level of protection than in your country of residence. JML uses third-party service providers, for example to manage user support requests, and to enable those services to be provided, it may be necessary to transfer some personal data, including an automatic transfer of emails to such providers. By submitting any personal information to JML you consent to such transfer. You should also be aware that, since your articles and (depending on your privacy settings) your profile information, are visible to users in almost every country in the world, which means that your data is necessarily transferred to those countries.

Security

We take the security of your personal information seriously. We have security procedures in place to protect our visitor databases from loss and misuse, and only allow access to it when necessary, and then under strict guidelines as to what use may be made of the personal information contained within it.

JML website may contain links to other websites. We have no control over and are not responsible for the content of, privacy policies or security of such sites. We recommend that you check the privacy and security policies of each website you visit.
